Make Your Office More Efficient

FROM "13 WAYS TO MAKE YOUR OFFICE SPACE MORE EFFICIENT"

MIKE MICHALOWICZ, AUTHOR, PROFIT FIRST

Do you have office space that isn't all that effective? Don't feel bad. It happens to us all, from time to time. The good news is that there are things you can do right now to make a difference.

KILL THE AIR.

Many offices are kept so cold that the employees are wasting time talking about how cold they are and trying to keep warm. If you do a better job of keeping the office temperature at a comfortable level, your employees will be more productive and you will save money on your bill.

NIX MEETING ROOMS.

A lot of wasted office time takes place in meeting rooms. Get rid of those and hold standing-room-only meetings by the water cooler or coffee pot. You will be surprised how much more gets done!

LET THERE BE LIGHT.

Try to make sure that natural light comes into the office. Natural light, especially on a sunny day, can energize your employees and help them be more productive.

ERGONOMICS COUNT.

Because you spend so much time each week in the office, it is important that you be comfortable. Invest in ergonomic products that will make you more comfortable, and that will increase efficiency.

GO WITH THE FLOW.

Arrange your office so that it is in line with the traffic flow. A couple of minutes saved here and there throughout the day really add up, over the month, and year.

ADMIT DIFFERENCES.

If you have employees, it is important to keep in mind that an efficient office is subjective. While you think standing up at a high-bar table is efficient, someone else may feel that it's annoying and find that it slows them down. Recognize and respect the differences, so long as you are pleased with output.

These are just some of the ways that you can get your office working more efficiently for you. There are many more. Try a few and see what works. You may be surprised by how much more you get done, without an increase in effort.
